Saturday 30th January 2010

St. Margaret's Hall, Forfar

10am - 4pm

(Registration from 9.30am)

£18 (£14 concession & AF members)

Alison spends much of her time running workshops for singers, and working with choirs where she has built her reputation by teaching her own compositions. Over the years many choirs and singing groups across Britain have commissioned pieces from her for special occasions and events, and include her work in their repertoire of favourite songs. Exquisite harmonies and rich but simple text are the hallmark of her songs that are guaranteed to move and inspire you.

Quote from Alison: "In my work I try to recreate the richness of harmony that makes songs from oral traditions around the world so satisfying and joyful to sing, but with words that root the work firmly back in my own culture."

The workshop is open to anyone interested in Harmony Singing, or in singing in general - at any level. Come along and join in.....

Directions to St Margaret's Church, Forfar.

St. Margaret's Church,
West High St,
Forfar,
Angus,
DD8 1BJ

From the A90 Dundee
To Aberdeen dualcarriageway, take the
A929 junction to Forfar.
There is a McDonalds
'restaurant' at this junction.

Follow Glamis Road
straight in to the town
until you reach the traffic lights at the end of West High Street.

St. Margaret's Church is straight ahead over these lights, on the left, between the bank and the post office. However, to park your car, turn left at the traffic lights and the first right, signposted for the Myre Car Park. This is a free car park and you can leave your car all day. From the car park, a small lane / steps leads up the side of the Guide Hall to St. Margaret's Church. At the top of the steps, opposite the postal depot, the entrance to the church hall is the first gate on your right.
