

Eileen Penman Singing Workshop

Saturday 5th June 2010
St. Margaret's Hall, Forfar
10am - 4pm
(Registration from 9.30am)

£18 (£14 concession & AF members)

Eileen Penman is a singer and songwriter from Edinburgh. As well as being a solo performer at folk clubs and political events, she has for many years led choirs, workshops and community groups. She began teaching Scots song with the Adult Learning Project in 1990 and from there went on to found Stairheid Gossip and the Wildfire Women's Community Choir.

Stairheid Gossip have performed at folk clubs and festivals and last year had three very successful Fringe performances. Eileen is always in demand to lead singing groups and has also taught on the Traditional Music Degree Course at the RSAMD in Glasgow. She has a wide repertoire and will teach a varied workshop including Scots traditional and other song genres from around the world.

To book a place, please call
07842 227202 or book online:
www.angusfolk.org

Organised By:

angusfolk